

Privacy at Powa

Apr 2020

Our Privacy Commitment

Privacy matters to us and we know it matters to you.

We provide solar system operation & maintenance service to the solar systems on your roofs. We may collect your personal info or your business info to make sure you can offer solar Power Purchase Agreement (PPA) service to you or to your business.

We are committed to protecting your privacy, keeping your information safe and ensuring the security of your data.

Our Privacy Statement

Our Privacy Statement explains how we collect, use and protect your information. It applies to all the businesses in the Powa Power Pty Ltd and its relevant companies. It extends to both our control and processing of personal information. It also incorporates our Credit Reporting Policy which lets you know how we use any credit related information we might collect.

This current policy came into effect at 1 Apr 2020. We may need to update it over time but if we do, we will post the updated version on our website at www.powapower.co.

What information do we collect?

The types of information we collect depends on how you use our products and services as well as the relationship we have with you as a customer.

This can include straightforward information like your name, date of birth, contact details (including address, email address, phone number or mobile telephone number), occupation, driver's licence or passport number and financial information (such as credit card or bank account numbers).

We may also collect more in-depth information including:

- Financial and Credit Information related to your financial relationship with us, such as your income details, payment history, your credit history and your service history. For more details, see the section on Credit Reporting below.

Normally we don't collect sensitive info about you and your business. In very rare cases if we do so, we are subject to strict requirements in relation to sensitive information including to only collect and use sensitive information with consent or otherwise in accordance with applicable law such as the Commonwealth Privacy Act 1988.

You might also need to provide personal information about other individuals to us (e.g. about your authorised representative). If so, we rely on you to have informed those individuals that you are giving their personal information to us and to have advised them about this statement.

It is important to be aware that if you access another party's website or application using one of our products, that other party will deal with your personal information in accordance with its own privacy policy.

How do we collect your information?

There are three ways that we can collect your information.

1. You give it to us when you or your representative interacts with either us or one of our trusted partners. This might happen when you are setting up an account with us or using one of our products or services.
2. We collect information when we provide O&M service to the solar systems on your roof. For instance, our solar meter will be constantly recording and reporting solar generation data to our server so we can be assured the system is performing as well as it should be.
3. We obtain information from outside sources like credit reports, marketing mailing lists, and public information, (including public posts to social networking sites) and commercially available personal, identity, geographic and demographic information. This can also include information gained from our partners if you have interacted with them. These partners include our business and commercial partners, identity and fraud checking services, credit reporting bodies and wholesale and other customers.

We understand that you might not want to give us particular personal information. If so, that may mean we are not able to provide you with the products or services you need.

How do we keep your information?

We may store your information in hard copy or electronic format, and keep it in storage facilities that we own and operate ourselves, or that are owned and operated by our service providers.

We use a combination of technical solutions, security controls and internal processes to help us protect your information and our network from unauthorised access and disclosure.

We endeavour to ensure that personal information is kept as current as possible and that irrelevant or excessive data is deleted or made anonymous as soon as reasonably practicable. However, some personal information may be retained for varying time periods in order to comply with legal and regulatory obligations and for other legitimate business reasons.

How do we use your information?

We will only use your information if we have a lawful reason to do so such as when it's our legal duty or we have your consent and when it's in our legitimate interest to do so. These include:

Administration – To help us properly manage the products and services we provide to you and to maintain and update our records. For example, we need to be able to verify your identity to detect, prevent and address fraud. We also use your information for charging and billing and to identify breaches of our terms and conditions of service.

Communication – We need to be able to communicate with you in order to provide you with our products and services.

Metering and pricing – We need to collect solar generation data constantly in order to gauge and send you most accurate and up-to-date invoice.

Operation & Maintenance - We will collect the key performance data of the solar system to analyse and make sure the system is performing as well as it should be

Development and analysis – It's important we understand your information and communication needs. One of the ways we do this is through using analysis and business intelligence techniques. This gives us high level insights into things like usage patterns, solar system performance and other types of behavioural data. In many cases this information is aggregated and de-identified when analysed. We may share these anonymised insights with select business and commercial partners. In some cases, we may create insights with your information on an identified basis but would only do so in compliance with privacy laws (such as, with your consent).

Direct marketing – We want to make sure that you know about all our products, services and special offers that are relevant and are of interest to you. We may use the information we hold to market and promote them directly to you. This also may include products, services and offers provided by our trusted partners. In some cases this marketing activity can continue after you have stopped using our products or services, unless you opt-out. You can stop us using your information for direct marketing by updating your preferences by emailing us on info@powapower.co.

When do we share your information?

We may share your information with other parties who provide services to us, including organisations, agents, partners and contractors that assist us with providing our business processes and products and services. These services include:

- providing, managing or administering your product or service including customer enquiries and support services
- installation, maintenance and repair services

- and for the purposes of facilitating or implementing a transfer/ sale of all or part of our assets or business.

Credit reporting

Sometimes, such as when we are checking your credit worthiness or assessing your credit situation, we might collect credit information from or give information to credit reporting bodies. Credit information can include:

- identification information
- details about information requests made about you to credit reporting bodies
- current and historical details about credit applications you have made and credit arrangements you have entered into
- information about overdue payments, default listings and about serious credit infringements and information about payments or subsequent arrangements in relation to either of these
- various publicly available information like bankruptcy and credit-related court judgments
- credit scores or risk assessments indicating an assessment of your credit worthiness.

Credit information relates primarily to your dealings with other credit providers (for example, banks, other financial institutions, or other organisations that may provide you with credit in connection with their products or services). It may also include certain credit worthiness information that we derive from the data that we receive from a credit reporting body. Sometimes we may collect this information about you from other credit providers.

We may disclose your credit information to credit reporting bodies. They in turn may include it in credit reporting information they provide to other credit providers to assist them to assess your credit worthiness.

We may use or disclose your credit information for purposes such as:

- developing our credit assessment and credit worthiness rating system
- processing credit-related applications and managing credit that we provide
- assisting you to avoid defaults
- collecting amounts you may owe us in relation to such credit and dealing with serious credit infringements
- assigning our debts or acting in connection with any securitisation or other financing arrangement
- participating in the credit reporting system
- dealing with complaints or regulatory matters relating to credit or credit reporting
- when required or authorised by another law
- those purposes under "How do we use your information?" and "When do we share your information?" above except in relation to information we collect from credit reporting bodies.

You have the right to request credit reporting bodies not to:

- use your credit eligibility information to determine your eligibility to receive direct marketing from credit providers; and
- use or disclose your credit eligibility information if you have been or are likely to be a victim of fraud.

How can you access or correct your personal information?

To ensure that we are able to provide you with the best products and services possible, it's important that you make sure the personal information we hold about you is accurate, up-to-date and complete. If any of your details change, you may contact us using the contact details below (find them in the how to contact us section) so that we can consider and respond to your request. You also have the right to request a copy of your information that we hold about you. There is no charge to submit a request or to correct information, however we may apply an administrative charge for providing access to your personal information on request. To make this request email us at info@powapower.co.

How can you make a privacy complaint?

You can also use our contact details to notify us of any privacy complaint you have against us. We are committed to acknowledging your complaint in a prompt manner and will give you an estimated timeframe for when we will respond to your complaint.

If your complaint is in relation to a credit reporting issue we will acknowledge your complaint in writing as soon as practicable within 7 days. We will aim to investigate and resolve your complaint within 30 days of receiving it. If we need more time, we will notify you about the reasons for the delay and indicate a new estimate time frame. We may need to consult with a credit reporting body or another credit provider to investigate your complaint.

While we hope that we will be able to resolve any complaints you may have without needing to involve third parties, you may also be able to lodge a complaint with a relevant regulator such as the Clean Energy Council of Australia

How can you contact us?
